perfect, thank you

and for what it's worth, I think it may help us if she summarized the comments, because that way it is more clear that any pushback we do to these comments is on behalf of the CEC and with their backing.

The memo looks great for my opening comments, thank you! As far as Bo's presentation I think I want to run that by Jessica. I had heard that we sometimes give some response or acknowledgement to comments docketed. I will email her and ask if she will be doing that or if she would like us to address any.

Does that sound like a plan?

Hi Daniela,

please find attached draft verbiage for your opening comments on the 20th. Bo drafted this from the support letter I proposed that was never docketed.

I have also attached Mary's revisions again for your reference, in case you'd like to bring up a shortened version of her points as well, as a peace offer of sorts. Some of her points are valid; we'd have to double check the facts first, but that's quick. Include?

Our subsequent presentation (given by Bo) would then provide

1. a summary of the project tasks off of that 2-page document we wrote a while ago. yes/no?
2. a brief summary of the upcoming test plan. yes/no?
3. any results we'll have by then (interview responses, essentially). yes/no?

Marc
